

LOCAL OFFER

18-21 year olds

For care experienced young people

Welcome

At Together for Children we work with care experienced young people to make sure they feel supported into independence after leaving care - this is known as our Care Experienced Local Offer.

Support into independence and adult life will look different for different people, but could include:

- Deciding where to live.
- Choosing whether to get into employment, get some more training or study for more qualifications.
- Budgeting advice.
- Working out how much support might be needed from a social worker or personal adviser.

The level of support that is offered depends on:

- Your age.
- When and how long you were cared for.
- Whether you are currently still cared for.

Getting around

All care experienced young people aged 18-25 in Sunderland will be provided with a free Network One travel pass. This will need replaced yearly.

This will allow unlimited travel on bus services in County Durham, Northumberland and Tyne and Wear. You can also use this on the Shields Ferry and Northern Rail services between Sunderland and Blaydon.

Your Personal Adviser will give you this card and the full information leaflet alongside this.

Relationships

Advocacy scheme for cared for and care experienced young people.

- Access to an advocate who can provide confidential and independent advice, information and representation. For access follow the link to the online referral form, alternatively your Social Worker can complete the referral for an advocate on your behalf.

Understanding life story

- Support to request your records/files and also to talk about what is in these. If you need emotional support following this, your Personal Adviser will discuss with you and refer you to the service best able to meet your needs.
- Your Personal Adviser can communicate with family members and friends in your network to include them, if you want them to do this.

Health and wellbeing

Support with health appointments

- Your Personal Adviser can support you to attend important appointments while you get used to going to these by yourself.
- If you feel you will need a lot of support or longer-term support, we can refer you to the social prescribing service for specialist support with accessing health services.

Access to leisure services

- All care experienced young people are entitled to a free Everyone Active gym membership in Sunderland. If you live outside of Sunderland, we will explore funding access to a service local to you, so you do not miss out.

Health services we provide

- Access to Kooth, an online counsellor and support service for young people aged 10-18 and care experienced people up to 25 years of age.
- Staff have advice available from a Consultant Clinical Psychologist weekly to make sure we are offering you the best service we can.
- Young Person's Activity Coordinator will support young people with cooking and health eating, workshops around a healthy lifestyle, sexual relationships, promoting an active lifestyle and more.
- Signposting to sexual health services and support to access these where needed.
- If you need support with substance misuse, we can refer you to Wear Recover for specialist support.
- We can support you to link in with the Recovery College who offer a range of free recovery focussed educational courses for people with lived mental health experience, their friends and family.

Education and training

Additional education/training incentives

- We will provide a laptop/software.
- If the course or training, you are on does not offer a cash bursary then we will consider a cash incentive subject to continued attendance.

Information about turning 21-25

When you turn 21, you have a few different options. If you are still working on something with your Personal Adviser, like housing, or building your network, then you can choose to keep working with them. In terms of their support to you, nothing will change. What does change, however, is that there is no finance directly from Next Steps that can be accessed.

Wider offers like council tax and your travel pass still apply, even if you close to us, however money for things like education equipment does not. We will, however, support you to access other sources of support such as foodbanks if you need this.

If you feel you no longer need your Personal Adviser, or we have been unable to contact you for some time, then you can step down to a duty service. This means you won't have an allocated worker, however you can still call our duty line any time and, if you just want support with a short-term issue, like a new housing application, we will allocate someone to do this with you.

One thing which is important to share, however, is that when you decide, you can change your mind. You might be 23 and finding things a bit difficult, to the point short-term isn't enough. If that's the case, then we can do a new Pathway Assessment and plan with you, and you can reopen. We can't guarantee it will be the Personal Adviser you had before, but it will be someone ready to support you.

Some of the photos featured in this booklet include photos of young people who we support and are being used with their permission.
